TIM & ANGELA
serving in the Middle East

Lives and communities transformed through encounter with Jesus Christ

The Middle East

This is a part of the world that is in need of peace and reconciliation. Although it makes the headlines as a place of conflict and extremism, the Middle East is also a place of rich history, beauty and hospitality. Recent events have led to significant material and spiritual challenges, and to increasing questions about politics and religion. Support is also needed for local communities who are stretched with the influx of refugees.

Tim & Angela

Tim and Angela started having conversations about overseas mission soon after they met. Tim has been a high school history teacher for ten years, with six years of experience as Head of Department in a large Auckland school. He also has a Masters in Theology and hopes one day to teach Biblical Studies and Theology in a mission context. Recently he had an interim role as pastor at their church in Te Atatu Peninsula. Tim spent most of his childhood in Chad, Congo and Zambia, where his parents served as mission workers.

Angela has interest and experience in the areas of community engagement, hospitality, advocacy and environmental sustainability. Previously, she spent six years living in Dubai, which gave her the experience of living in a Muslim context. Currently she is enjoying being a full-time mum to Adelaide (4) and Louis (2).

Tim and Angela and the children recently spent six weeks visiting four countries in the Middle East, to get a better idea of opportunities to serve in that part of the world. They also wanted to have an idea of what family life would look like there, including schooling for the children. It was also a great opportunity to connect with some of the Interserve teams.

Tim and Angela are preparing now to go to the region longer-term. They recognise that it takes time to build friendships and mutual trust, and that it usually begins with a common language, therefore they will spend the first two years learning Arabic in-country. They know there will be many opportunities to serve during and beyond their language study, but wherever they are they want to prioritise being present, relational and engaged in the lives of those people God brings into their lives.

Thank you!
